BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

Boston, Dec. 6, 1873.

Wool is in active demand at advanced prices, the market being very excited and transactions larger than for a long time. The advance of necess from the lowest point during the panch has been from 7c. a 8c. per 1b., but on puhed and Cailfornia the improvement has not been so marked. There are no desirable Ohio and Fonnsylvania fleeces now offering under 52\( \frac{1}{2} \)c., and we quote choice double extra at the close from 52\( \frac{1}{2} \)c., offec, with higher prices asked for treble extra and pick lock. Good lots of wisconsin and Michigan fleeces are not offering under 59c., with sales of Wisconsin at 5cc. and a lot of Michigan at 51c. Fulled wool continues to attract considerable attention and good lines of superfine and extra still rule comparatively low, sales having been made at from 40c. to 60c., but indications point to a general advance on these descriptions very soon. California has also sold quite freely and 17c. may now be considered the lowest price for fail up to 25c. for best lots. ## THE NEWARK FRAUDS.

Point Blank Refusal "Bosa" Dawes to Allow His Books
To Be Examined-A Mandamus To Be Procured.

There being some technical defect in the letter of authority given the Citizens' Expert Committee of the Newark Committee of One Hundred, another one, fully meeting the spirit and letter of the law, was procured from Mayor Ricord positively requiring the city officials to open their records to the citizen investigators. Yesterday, armed with this, Messrs. Schnelibacher, Dillon and Kuhn, a majority of the Expert Committee, accompanied by Mr. James Courter, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred, again visited the City Hall and again called upon City Auditor Dawes. Mr. Courter presented the Mayor's full and explicit letter of au, thority, clothing the three experis named above with full power to examine the records of his and other departments of the city. The "Boss" read the document, and once more

DEFIED THE MAYOR'S AUTHORITY
by refusing to allow the committee to examine his papers, books, &c. The plea he offered for his contumacy was the same as before—personal objection to Mr. Dillon, the leading financial investigator. He was quite willing, he said, that the other members of the committee might examine his records in the course of some days, after he had finished up some balance work he was now doing. The committee held to their iormer position that, unless it was allowed as a unit to go on with the examination, it could not and would not proceed. Too: "Giss!" alleged as a unit to go on with the examination, it could not and would not proceed. The "moss" alleged objection to Mr. Dillon is, that in the report the latter prepared, which report was unanimously approved of by the Committee of One Hundred, he distorted certain facts. The "Boss" says he has the proof of this, but thus far has allowed six or seven weeks to intervene without making, or causing to be made, any correction of the alleged distortions.

The Real Cause of objection, according to universal bellet in Newark, is that Mr. Dawes is afraid of Mr. Dillon's marvellous faculty for feretting out ugly discrepancies. Besides, Mr. Dillon is the only member of the Expert Committee who has ample leisure as well as ability to pursue the investigation rully. The objection to him, on the ground of introducing distortions in his report, is laughed out of Court entirely, for the simple reason that Mr. Dillon merely prepared the reports and was responsible for them only as a member of the committee. He is not even chairman of the Expert Committee of the Auditor's sub-committee. If, therefore, there were any "distortion" in them Mr. Schnelbacher is the most responsible, being chairman. But to him,

SINGULABLY AND SIGNIFICANTLY,

"Boss" Dawes makes no objection, but, on the contrary, welcomes him as an investigator. The special committee appointed at the last meeting to consult counsel in regard to taking legal steps for the procurement of a mandamus from the supreme Court to compel the throwing open of the books will report at the meeting to-morrow evening, when it is expected that some startling reports will be made regarding the School fund. The officials have made no attempt to quiet the rumor now in circulation for weeks, to the effect that there is a deflect of $55,000 somewhere in the ety finances.

THE HIGHBRIDGE (N. J.) TRAGEDY. Brennan Indieted for Murder in the First Degree.

No sooner had the Coroner's jury at Highbridge concluded the inquest on the body of Catharine Brennan than her husband was taken off and lodged in the Hunterdon County Jail at Flemington, where the Patenburg rioters created such a sensa tion last year. The Grand Jury took the case at once tion last year. The Grand Jury took the case at once into consideration, and on Friday evening they found an indictment of murder in the first degree against Brennan. District Attorney Chamberiam will move the trial week after next. Owing to the magnitude of the case he has concluded to call on the Attorney General to assist in the prosecution. Brennan's irlends have retained Mr. Voorhees, of Flemington, and Mercer Beasley, Jr., of Trenton, for the defence. The evidence against the prisoner is accumulating since the inquest. Hunterdon county is establishing a reputation for itself.

A MISSING MAN FOUND DROWNED,

NEWPORT, R. L., Dec. 6, 1873. The body of Mr. George H. Gifford, merchant, of this city, was found to-day in a pond near the railroad depot, at Fall River. No foul play was manifest, as his money, watch and other valuables were found upon his person, and a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental drowing. He had been missing from his home since Monday, the 25th ult., at which time he proceeded to Fall River to draw some money he had on deposit Fail River to draw some money he had on deposit at one of the Fail River savings banks. The wild-set stories were adont as to his probable late, and it was generally believed that he had been murdered and alterwards robbed. Both this city and Fail River were excited, and accordingly took measures to ferret out the mystery, with the above result. It is supposed that he fell through the bridge, the planks being removed on account of the city having it repaired, and he was found underneath it.

A lawsuit will probably be brought against the city by his family for damages, as there was no watchman or light to warn travellers of the danger.

BOSTON, Dec. 6, 1873. An Italian known as Antonio Corighino is under arrest in Boston, charged with swindling his countrymen by promising them work and good wages in railroad building, in New York State, for which he assessed them $2.50 cach, agreeing to meet them at the depot and pay their lares. He is said to have played the same game in New York city, realizing a handsome same by his rascality.

DEWITT'S RA, 'D IN TRENTON. The Dead Bent Th lef Personified-A

Bargain in A'ry Goods. . Yesterday a man named & corge B. Dewitt was committed to the Mercer County (New Jersey) Jail, in default of $700 bail, to away his trial on the charge of having stoien from one ansan Hunt, at Titusville, a horse, wagon, harness, buffalo robe and a silk dress, in all valued at about $513, while the latter was attending durch services at that hamlet on Thursday last. After the the 'ft was committed Dewitt drove in hot haste to Englishtown and there traded the horse for another acress worth only about $5, and at the same time getting $5 boot. He disposed of the silk dress to a hotel keeper's wile for $4, it being worth about $40. He was arrested in a saloon in Englishtown and conveyed to Trenton in charge of the compainant's husband and Constable Voorhees, where a preliminary examination took place before Justice Mills, with the result above stated. The prisoner is over six feet in stature, of middle age, and, as Justice Mills said, 'looks like a regular dead oeat," He was identified by Peter H. Vancleve as the man who was in possession of the stolen property at his hotel in Englishtown. charge of having stoien from one ausan Hunt, at
